Supplemental Retirement Plans: Flexibility for Your Future

At the University of North Carolina System (UNC System), you have a valuable opportunity to save for your retirement future by participating in either the University of North Carolina Optional Retirement Program (ORP) or the Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System (TSERS). While both of these options provide a valuable opportunity for you to prepare for your future, you may want to consider boosting your retirement savings by participating in one or more of these supplemental retirement plans:

- UNC System 403(b) Plan
- UNC System 457(b) Plan
- State's 457 Deferred Compensation Plan
- State's 401(k) Plan

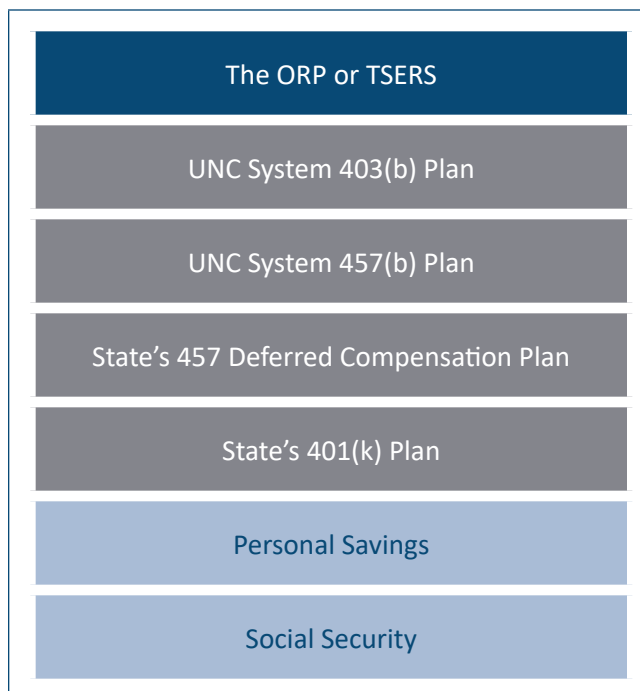

Inside this guide, we'll take a closer look at each of the supplemental retirement plans, explore how they can work with either the ORP or TSERS to help you maximize your opportunity to prepare for retirement, and direct you to online tools and resources that can help you make the right choice for your future.

The Bigger Picture

Preparing for retirement is not a one-time event — it's a process that should span your entire career. The earlier you start and the more consistently you save, the more likely you are to enjoy the retirement you worked so hard to achieve. That's why it's so important to maximize your retirement savings opportunity while you are working — and the University's supplemental retirement plans can help you reach your retirement goals.

1. Once you enroll in either the ORP or TSERS, you've taken the first step — both plans offer a valuable retirement savings opportunity.
2. Next, consider whether you want to participate in one or more of the UNC System supplemental retirement plans.
3. Remember, Social Security and any personal savings you may have are also part of your financial picture in retirement, though experts estimate Social Security only replaces about 40% of your pre-retirement income.

MAJOR SOURCES OF RETIREMENT INCOME

Did You Know?

Most experts estimate you'll need between 70% to 90%
of your pre-retirement income to maintain your standard of living in retirement.

Of course, how much you need in retirement depends on several factors — including what you want to do (travel, buy a second home, etc.) and how long you'll need your savings to last.

One of the most important steps in preparing for retirement is setting your goals — it helps keep your savings on track and ensures you get to enjoy the retirement you envision for yourself.

For help establishing your retirement savings goals, review all of the retirement program materials, including Your Guide to Investing in the 2025 UNC System Retirement Programs, available at <https://myapps.northcarolina.edu/hr/benefits-leave/retirement/>.

Your Supplemental Retirement Plan Options

The supplemental retirement plans provide an additional opportunity to help you reach your retirement goals.

UNC System 403(b) Plan

All employees, except UNC Health Care employees, who pay FICA are eligible to participate

This plan is offered through the UNC System. You own the account and have the opportunity to make contributions pre-tax and/or after-tax through a Roth account. Your earnings grow tax-deferred until retirement.

UNC System 457(b) Plan

All UNC System employees, including UNC Health Care employees, who pay FICA are eligible to participate

This plan is offered through the UNC System. Your contributions are made pre-tax and/or after-tax through a Roth account. Your earnings grow tax-deferred until retirement. Your account is held in a trust by the UNC System exclusively for participants and their beneficiaries.

State's 457 Deferred Compensation Plan

All North Carolina public employees are eligible to participate

Your contributions are made pre-tax and/or after-tax through a Roth account. Your earnings grow tax-deferred until retirement. Your account is held in a trust by the State of North Carolina exclusively for participants and their beneficiaries.

State's 401(k) Plan

All North Carolina public employees are eligible to participate

This State-sponsored plan also allows you to make contributions pre-tax and/or after-tax through a Roth account. Your earnings grow tax-deferred until retirement. Your account is held in a trust by the State of North Carolina exclusively for participants and their beneficiaries.

Your Contribution Options: Pre-Tax and After-Tax (Roth Account)

If you enroll in the UNC System 403(b) Plan, the UNC System 457(b) Plan, the State’s 401(k) Plan or the State’s 457 Deferred Compensation Plan, you have the opportunity to make contributions pre-tax and/or after-tax through a Roth account.

Your pre-tax contributions are deducted from your pay before calculating federal and state income tax withholdings. Pre-tax contributions lower your current taxable income and often reduce the amount you pay in federal (and sometimes state) taxes. At retirement (at least age 59½), withdrawn funds are taxed as ordinary income.

You also may designate some or all of your contributions to be deducted on an after-tax basis via a Roth account. Interest and earnings on these contributions when withdrawn are generally tax-free. In the event of either retirement or termination, your earnings can be withdrawn tax-free as long as it has been five tax years since your first Roth account contribution and you are at least 59½ years old. Unlike Roth IRAs, there are no maximum income limits to participate in a Roth 403(b), 401(k) or 457(b) account.

Effect of Contributions on Take-Home Pay

Example: You earn $40,000 annually, and have elected to contribute 6% pre-tax and another 6% after-tax to your 403(b) Plan each month.

	Pre-tax Contributions	After-tax Contributions
Monthly Contribution	$200	$200
Take-Home Pay After Monthly Contribution	$150	$200

This hypothetical example is based solely on an assumed federal income tax rate of 25%. No other payroll deductions are taken into account. Your own results will be based on your individual tax situation.

When deciding whether a Roth account makes sense for you, there are various factors to consider, including your current income, whether you wish to pay taxes now or later, and future tax policy. If you need help understanding the implication of your choice, you have access to financial counselors available through our investment carrier (TIAA) and CAPTRUST, the UNC System’s investment adviser.

Before You Enroll

Before you make any decisions about your retirement savings or investments, it's essential to understand your options and the implications of your choices.

Here's a checklist that can help guide your thinking.

- ☐ Review this guide and the *Your Mandatory Retirement Plan Decision Guide carefully to make sure you understand how the UNC System retirement programs work and what your options are. These guides are also available online at <https://myapps.northcarolina.edu/hr/benefits-leave/retirement/>.
- ☐ Consider your overall financial goals — or establish them if you haven't already — and study all your sources for retirement income, including the UNC System's retirement program, Social Security and any other personal savings you (and/or your spouse) may have. Then, determine how one of the supplemental retirement plans could best fit into your bigger financial picture and help you work toward your savings goals.
- ☐ Explore the investment options to help you decide which supplemental retirement plan — and which investment options — will best help complete your retirement savings portfolio. Remember to think about your risk tolerance and the return your investments will need to generate to help you reach your goals. Also, consider how these options will help you build a diverse portfolio suited to your needs.
- ☐ Consult your personal tax or financial adviser before making any decisions to ensure you make the right choices about your UNC System retirement program.

All UNC System retirement program participants have access to independent financial advisers through CAPTRUST, the UNC System's investment adviser. These advisers can help you:
